DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 4/3/07 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 38-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pemberton (US 3,760,093) in view of G. H. Thomen (US 3,530,661), and further in view of Young (US 4,009,561).

Re claims 38-45: Pemberton discloses in Fig. 3 a plurality of rollers, Examples 1-10 discloses different configurations, col. 3, lines 30-35 discloses rotating, it is inherent that the rolling passes positioned between the supply and the stranding machine. Pemberton fails to disclose roll sets and each roll set being configured and disposed to separately roll each advancing wire.

Thomen discloses roll sets shown in Fig. 4A and in Figs. 4-5 show different locations of roll sets.

Art Unit: 3726

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Pemberton by providing roll sets, as taught by Thomen, for the purpose of evenly stressing the wires.

Young discloses providing each roll set (15) being configured and disposed to separately roll each advancing wire (Fig. 2).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Pemberton by providing each roll set being configured and disposed to separately roll each advancing wire, as taught by Young, for the purpose of performing each wire.

Pemberton fails to disclose reducing the wires by no more than 25%, 30% or 40% and rotating the wires through an angle of 45 to 135. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to reduce the wires by no more than 25%, 30% or 40% and rotate the wires through an angle of 45 to 135, since it has been held that where general conditions of claims are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Re claim 46: Pemberton, Thomen and Young teach the invention as described with respect to claims 38-45. Pemberton fails to disclose a pulling device.

Young discloses a pulling device 12.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Pemberton by providing a pulling device, as taught by Young, for the purpose of pulling a core from a pay off spool along a predetermined route of operation.
